Cost-Optimized Limited availability

Cost-efficient on older hardware generations, with limited availability. Ideal for variable workloads that can handle changing CPU performance. Optimized for low CPU usage with variable workloads.

Cost effective    Low CPU usage    Medium traffic applications

ARCHITECTURE

☐ x86 (Intel®/AMD)    ☐ Arm64 (Ampere®)

Regular Performance

Higher CPU performance based on newer hardware generations. Ideal for variable workloads that can handle changing CPU performance. Optimized for low to medium CPU usage with variable workloads.

Best price/performance    Low to medium CPU usage

Networking

Choose from three networking options for your server. You can also create servers without a public network. If you want to disable the public network, you need to select a private network first. You can also assign existing and available Primary IPs.

Public IPv4 $

Primary IPs of type IPv4 cost $0.001/h, regardless of being attached to a server or not.

Public IPv6

! SSH keys

Use SSH keys for secure and efficient authentication. Ensure the key is in OpenSSH format. If you add an SSH key, no root credentials will be sent via email. Learn more.

No SSH key selected.

We recommend using an SSH key. Otherwise you will receive the root password via email.

○ Volumes

Volumes offer you highly available and reliable SSD-based storage space for your cloud servers. You can expand each Volume to up to 10 TB at any time. The Volume must be in the same location as the server that you are creating.

Backups are daily automatic copies of your server's disk. With Backups, you can easily restore a server to a previous state or use it to create a new server. Learn more.

Backups cost an additional 20 % of the server price. Volumes are not included in backups.

☐ Backups $

Placement groups

Group multiple servers into a placement group to optimize your availability requirements. The type "spread" ensures that servers in a group use different hosts to reduce downtime and achieve maximum availability. Learn more.

Labels

Labels are key-value pairs. Both key and value must be 63 characters or less, and must begin and end with an alphanumeric character. Alphanumerics or dashes, hyphens, and dots can be used in-between.
